

Preface

It's a big challenge to bring English edition of Warta Pengabdian come true. Starting in 2020, there was a discourse to publish all articles of Warta Pengabdian in English. However, it takes time to manage it. After several years this journal with Indonesian language now it publishes in English.

This journal aims to provide readers world wide with various issues related to community empowerment and advocacy. Also, It is hope that the information which publish in this journal can spread internationally.

This is the first edition that Warta Pengabdian publish in English. We also have changed the release of this journal from four times a year become two times a year. Each edition will publish on March and September every year.

In this edition we have five articles from various topics. These five articles written by various researchers from different institutions.

We would say thank you to all authors, reviewers and editor who give their contribution to the first English edition of Warta Pengabdian. Without their efforts and open hand, this first english edition would not be with you now.
