

Preface

We proud to announce that we delivered the newest Warta Pengabdian articles. However, we also have to announce that Warta Pengabdian publications must then be returned to their original publications; using the Indonesian language. We admit that it is difficult to return it to the Indonesian edition. However, we took this decision after seeing the development of the English articles which were still sporadically. Therefore, this edition will be the last edition of the articles published in English.

Just like the previous editions, the number of articles we publish is still 5 articles. This time the topic of writing is also quite diverse to be published. The themes for today article are Cultural Tourism, Creative Economy, Eco-Enzyme, Street food and Bioethanol. I hope all readers can get some important information from these newest articles.
