

INDONESIAN JOURNAL of LAW AND SOCIETY

Volume 5 | ISSUE 1 | MARCH 2024

ARTICLES

Beyond the Lens: Assessing Media Trials and Privacy Rights in Bangladesh

Dewan Alif Ovi, Mohtasin Sakib

Dual Empire of Penal System: Examining the Military Court's Decision on Budget Misuse by Military Officer

Jerymia Seky Tanaem, Dhia Al-Uyun, Nurini Aprilianda

Nancy Pelosi's Diplomatic Visit Against US – Taiwan Military Agreement Provides China Threat

Yordan Gunawan, Irvan Mareto

Democratization of Filling Regional Head Positions: Revisiting the System for Appointing Acting Officer of Regional Head Pre-Election 2024

Maurice Rogers, Christo Samurung Tua Sagala, Herdi Munte

Accessibility of Pharmaceutical Product Patents for Public Health Through the TRIPs Waiver

Lidya Shery Muis

Artificial Intelligence (AI) in Judiciary Processes: Between Wild Solutions in the Digital Age and the Irony of Justice Opportunities

Mutiara Shaquila Salsabila, Syariful Alam, Sholahuddin al-Fatih

The Indonesian Journal of Law and Society is the faculty-edited flagship journal of the Faculty of Law, University of Jember, Indonesia. It is a refereed journal, providing up-to-date academic analysis of current law and society issues in Indonesia and across the globe. This journal features international scholarship with the scope in the intersection of law and society that encourages cross-disciplinary approaches, which include law relating to political science, criminology, history, sociology, gender studies, and political economy.

